President's Message

Happy summer! The best time of the year because it brings back all of my camp memories – swimming in the pool, canteen, thunderstorms, color games. As always, there are opportunities to come up to camp this summer. History Day is August 3 – see more details later in this edition about that. We are also always looking for people to get more involved, so if you would like to be part of a steering committee please let me know!

With summer here, that means that reunion is coming soon. The best weekend of the year! We have had record-breaking attendance at the past few reunions and we would love to continue to grow. If you know of any Circle members or people who would like to reconnect with Camp Louise who do not receive updates from us, please send me their contact information.

We have some exciting changes coming up with Circle, including updating our e-mail service as well as giving the Web site a new look! I would like to thank all of my amazing board members for all of their hard work and dedication.

I hope to see everyone at Circle reunion, September 20-22! It is sure to be one of the best reunions yet!

Camp Update

When this newsletter comes out, camp will be in full swing. After months and months and months of planning during the off-season, it's so fulfilling when camp finally arrives. Seeing the faces of campers, parents, and staff as they arrive at camp for the first time or the 25th time – it truly is a remarkable sight.

I would like to share a short story – I was at the JCC before camp started, and I was stopped by a woman who I have seen at least 100 times. She scans cards and greets members as they come in. She told me that she went to Camp Louise, as did her mother and many other relatives. She said that several years ago, her family was in the area and decided to stop by camp. It was the off-season and camp was empty but they happened upon someone – I am guessing it was Kip. He let them in and she was telling me the amazing feelings they had simply walking into the gates of camp. The memories flooded back and she talked about camp traditions and the true happiness that camp gave them.

And that is what camp is all about. It doesn't matter if you are a new Circle member or in "semi-Circle" or you made Circle in the 1940s. Camp is a special place that makes its way into your heart and never leaves.

I want to thank you for all you do to help support camp. I truly

Here We Grow Again

Thank you, Circle!

Saturday, May 18, was the first planting of the summer! Camp Louise has partnered with the Amir Project to bring farming and gardening to the girls at camp. In addition to a farm plot that will be planted by campers, volunteers planted 10 raised beds full of strawberries, blueberries, watermelon, cantaloupe, eggplant, tomatoes, peppers & herbs that will be cared for, harvested and, of course, tasted by campers.

Thank you to Circle members and Camp Louise friends: Marji & Julian Arnheim, Reesa Pearlman, Julie Soss, Addy Pearlman-Soss, Hope Wisneski, Morgan Stevens, Scott Heinecke, Mimi Salters, Geri Rosenberg, Alyssa Chircus, Andie Snyder and Adam Greenstein for all of your hoeing, weeding, digging, planting, laughing, helping, hugging and smiling faces! Come and see the product of your labors when you drop off your campers, or when you come to Circle reunion in the fall.

Circle Board Nominations

Do you know someone who would like to be more involved with Circle — friends, relatives, or even yourself? Are you a subject matter expert in a skill which could benefit Circle? Drum roll please! The time is now! Nominations are being accepted for the Circle board. Positions will be filled during the election at the town hall meeting during Circle reunion over the weekend of September 20-22.

The great news is the requirements are minimal and you get to know many very talented ladies you may not have had the pleasure of working with previously. Responsibilities include attending 2 of the 3 annual Circle board meetings as well as committing to serving on a committee. Up to 6 positions will be available this year. This year nominations will close on August 23. The board terms have a 3-year commitment. If you are interested in running, or you would like to nominate someone else, or have any questions, please e-mail Jan Abraham at jana@camplouiseircle.org. or Debbie Apple at debbiea@camp-louiseircle.org.

Circle Reunion 2013

Circle sisters and brothers,

Remember those special summer times at camp with friends? It's special to become a kid again and to enjoy camp as an adult. Special is what reunion will be this year when you are a part of it. So make your plans now to attend Circle reunion and reconnect with old friends and make some new ones.

All people making Circle this year can attend the weekend free of charge, as long as they register before the August 20 deadline. All others, look at the reservation form to learn what you need to pay. Please know that we try to keep the cost minimal, but there are expenses for the weekend and camp does not pay for these.

If you can lend a hand and help out with programming at reunion, it would be welcomed. We need people to run activities during the day on Saturday or on Friday evening. Jana Kalish will be heading up programming this year with our theme of "Cruisin' With Circle" and doing the program for reunion. We are looking for more ideas to go with our nautical vacation theme. If you have ideas please email Jana at jana.e.kalish@gmail.com. Here are some ideas that have been successful or have been suggested:

- Yoga
- Pottery
- Copper enameling
- Tie dye
- Other crafts
- Singdown
- Icebreakers
- Folkdance

- Hikes
- Ropes course
- Campfire
- Talent show
- Life guarding at the pool

Following the spirit of Aunt Lil's Country Fair we will continue to have our annual raffle, so please bring items to donate. We are also looking for volunteers to sell raffle tickets during breakfast, lunch and dinner on Saturday and during brunch on Sunday. Please let me know if you can do anything for the raffle. Thanks, and see ya soon!

Robyn B. Kleiner

P.S. Don't forget that bed linens are not provided, so please be sure to pack them. Bring a pillow and blanket as well.

Circle Reunion Scholarships

This spring, we are asking you to please consider supporting your Circle sisters who need it most with a donation to the Circle reunion scholarship fund!

Just like Aunt Lil and Uncle Airy vowed to never turn away any camper due to financial status, we are proud that we have been able to provide support to any Circle member who has requested assistance to attend the annual Circle reunion over the past several years.

Each fall, Circle makes reunion more affordable for a number of reunion attendees. With increased interest and participation in reunion, we need your help to ensure that we can continue to provide scholarships for all who request financial assistance in 2013 and for many years to come.

For more information about the Circle reunion scholarship Fund, please visit the scholarship fund Web site by visiting www.camlouisecircle.org/scholarship.

Points on the Circle

Births

Stacie Mirkin Boccanfuso of Reisterstown, Md. is proud to announce that she and her husband welcomed their first child on October 31, 2013. Sydney Michelle was born at 1:09 a.m. Stacie was a CIT in 1998 and made Circle in 2002.

Barbara K. "campfire Kayten" Shuman wrote to tell us that her daughter Jessica gave birth to twin boys on March 16, 2013. Dylan and Jonah were about 7 weeks premature, and spent several weeks in the NICU. Thankfully, both are now at home in Doylestown, Penna., with their parents and big sister Jordan, age 5.

Although Barbara still lives in Pittsburgh, she has been blessed to spend a lot of time with the boys. Barbara tells us, "They are developing nicely and it is a joy to see them grow." Barbara worked in the drama department when she worked at camp and she made Circle in 1965.

Dr. Reesa Woolf (Circle 1967) of Boonton, N.J. (formerly of Baltimore) gave birth to a new book titled "Executive Speaking in a Weekend." For details on it, go to www.ExecutiveSpeakingInAWeekend.com. Results are guaranteed!

Reesa has been a personal speech trainer and coach since 1985. She has taught at the University of Maryland and The Johns Hopkins University. When she was at camp, Reesa was in the folk dance department.

Mazel Tov!

On November 25, 2012, Dani Berger (Circle 2006) married David Hercenberg, surrounded by family and friends at Beth T'filoh in Pikesville, Md. After a warm and relaxing honeymoon cruise, the couple returned home to Milwaukee, Wis., very excited to begin this next chapter in their life together!

On December 21, 2012, Andie Snyder (Circle 2006) became engaged to Adam Greenstein. When the world didn't come to an end with the Mayan calendar, the couple started the day with breakfast at Sheetz. Under a light flurry of snow, Adam popped the question in the middle of Solarium! After an all-important stop at the Ott, they returned home to Silver Spring, Md.

Shelley Preisler, daughter of Barbara Corak (arts & crafts) and Richard Preisler (post office), graduated from high school in June. Barbara and Richard made circle about 5 years ago. Shelley will be part of the Outdoor Living staff or ODL at camp this summer.

Melanie Lasoff Levs, Circle 1992, is thrilled to announce that she and her husband of almost 13 years, Josh, are expecting baby #3 in early November. By the time you read this, we will know if Melanie is on Team Louise or Team Airy! The new nugget will (G-d willing) join two amazing big brothers, who are almost 4 and almost 7.

In professional news, Melanie this year began her ninth year of freelance writing and editing after spending her 20s as a newspaper reporter and magazine editor. She specializes in on-line writing, ghost blogging, social media consultation, small business Web site writing and editing, and non-profit writing. She writes, "I would love to work with any of my Circle sisters and brothers, so if you could use my services, please email me at mlasofflevs@yahoo.com."

Lisa Blatt (Circle 2005) became engaged to Brian Bennett on May 17, 2013. Brian proposed on their two-year anniversary after re-creating their first several dates in the inner harbor. They are planning a summer 2014 wedding. Lisa is from Owings Mills, Md., and currently lives in North Bethesda, Md. She was a swim staff member and counselor at camp, a unit leader, a division head, and is currently serving as Circle president!

Passings

Terry Schnee Starrett (Circle 1970) wrote to tell us: "On May 19, 2013, my partner, best friend, Circle and Leaf member, and penultimate glass fuser passed away. Patricia (Pat) Elaine McQuiston was 67. She passed away with friends and family by her side. Those of you who knew Pat know that she was a strong woman who could get a person's life story within the first 30 minutes of meeting.

"Pat loved the camps and was always thinking of ways to improve and make them better. She journeyed with me through the rough times and through the raising of our two children, Valerie and Drew. She won the battle of the cancer but lost the war to a nasty bug. She will be forever missed by all those who knew her. Pat may have been a “transplant,” but she will always be “homegrown” to me.”

On Tuesday June 4, 2013, Mitzi Band (Circle 1948) of Thurmont, Md., formerly of Philadelphia Penna. and Brooklyn, N.Y.; passed away. Mitzi was the beloved wife of the late Philip T. Band (Circle 1997); loving mother of David (Susan Klein), Steven (Eve) and Lisa Band (Circle 1984); dear grandmother of Adam, Michael, Anna, Mallory and Rebecca Band. Memorial contributions may be made to Camp Airy-Camp Louise, 5750 Park Heights Ave., Baltimore, MD. 21215.

Lisa Yarmis (Circle 1975) lost her mom, Selma, on June 15, 2013. Selma was the beloved wife of the late Victor Yarmis; cherished mother of Lisa M. Yarmis (Joyce Kucharski), Seth Yarmis, and Derek (Lisa K.) Yarmis; loving sister of Alfred (Audrey) Haubensstock; adored grandmother of Jennifer Yarmis and Benjamin Yarmis. Contributions in Selma’s memory may be sent to Believe in Tomorrow Children’s Foundation, 6601 Frederick Rd., Baltimore, MD 21228.

This & That

Lawrence Kravitz (Circle 1998) wrote to tell us “This year will be the fourth year of glass fusion at Camp Louise. To date, girls have built mosaics to create glass pendants, earrings, refrigerator magnets, Judaica, and other imaginative products. During the off-season from camp, we experimented and evaluated the materials, feasibility, and cost of larger products, such as molded glass plates and completely dichroic glass pendants, a very colorful glass, for an advanced glass fusion class.”

Allie Goldberg (Circle 2008), of Gaithersburg, Md., wrote and shared “I’m going to be working in Yellowstone National Park, leading ecology-based backpacking trips for high school students this summer and then I’m moving to Denver, Colorado to teach middle school science! Maggie Whelple (Circle 2006 and outdoor living department head 2007-2009) lives there too, so anyone who wants to be outside in Denver should definitely come hang out.”

Allie was at camp from 1996 to 2011. In 2010 and 2011, she was the head of Outdoor Living.

Becky Polen Hartman (Circle 1965) wrote: “Wanted all to know that my mother, Myra Polen Foreman (Circle 1958) – was just celebrated for Mother’s Day – she is now 93 and going strong – she wants everyone to appreciate their Louise experience, the very special bond that we all share. Both Becky and Myra live in Baltimore.

Got news? You can send it to Karen Levin at borninablizzard@gmail.com. Please be sure to include the following with your news:

- Your full name, including maiden name if applicable.
- The year you made Circle, or the years you were at camp (approximation OK)
- The department you worked in at camp
- City and state where you live

Contributions to Circle

Making a contribution to Circle? Contributions can be made for any purpose – to support general operations, to support the reunion scholarship fund, or anything else you’d like Circle to support at camp! Remember to save your cancelled check or bank statement for tax purposes. If you need additional documentation for tax purposes or have any other questions relating to contributions, please contact Circle treasurer Andie Snyder at andies@camploisecircle.org. All checks should be made payable to “Camp Louise Circle.”

The last camp trunk

Sami Holtz's aunt recently wrote an article that appeared in the Huffington Post as her youngest daughter headed to camp. The article expresses many different feelings that some of you have had or will have when sending your children to camp.

Jane Levenbaum Rosen grew up on Long Island, N.Y. She spent many summers at the sleepaway camp where her mother worked and she eventually became a counselor and unit leader. When she had kids of her own, she decided to send them to a camp in Maine.

All three of the girls' went to camp; Jane and her mother would go up on visiting day each year to see the fun they were having. As her youngest recently headed off for her senior summer at camp, Jane wrote an article to commemorate the occasion and reflect on the days when she was packing all three girls for their summers at camp.

Like those of us who went to and worked at Louise and other camps like it, Jane and her girls have been lucky to have great camp experiences and memories to last a lifetime. Jane also wrote a book about four best camp friends keeping in touch on a Facebook thread during their freshman year of high school. I have been packing a camp trunk since 1972. I was 8 and it was my first summer at sleepaway camp. The trunk was bright orange with my name, "JANE," printed on it in bold, yellow letters. Its memory summons up the same nostalgic longing as that of my first car. I loved it. My mom spent what seemed like months sewing name tags on everything that would fill it. A job I didn't thank her for or appreciate until 30 years later when my first daughter went off to camp; before my labeling methods spiraled downward from sew-on to iron-on to stamped on to Sharpie. For me, that August sea of empty trunks splattered across the girls campus to air out was as much a symbol of summer's end as any of the traditional and romanticized rituals of sleepaway camp.

The appearance of the camp trunk marked the beginning and end of my summers for years to come, and it wasn't until the summer before college graduation that I gave it all up and got a "real" job. Though for the record, being in charge of sixty 14-year-olds and a dozen counselors was far better training for life than any job I've had since. That summer marked the beginning of my 15-year sabbatical from camp.

Work, marriage, a baby, another baby, yet another baby – fast forward to 2001 and it was time to send my oldest to camp. I lived in Manhattan now and my friends with children her age, mostly on round two, preached the benefits of camp in Maine. They went on and on about the retro feel, the perfect weather and the incredible lakes. "Maine!" I protested, "Isn't that a bit far?" "Exactly!" they responded. So off she went to camp in Maine and I soon understood what they were referring to. My husband, also a camp lover, and I set off on a whole new chapter of the camp experience.

As the camp trunks grew from two to four to six so did our visiting day weekend adventures. With each child came new friends and new friends' parents from all over the country. Never one to book much in advance, my negligence sparked a yearly exploration from an inn on the ocean in Kennebunkport to a hotel in Portland to a "cabin" on a lake in Naples. For me the highlight of visiting day itself, aside from seeing my children's happy faces of course, is putting on a bathing suit, walking across the wooden wobbly dock and jumping into the crisp clean, perfectly chilled lake. It feels as if I'm being saturated in a childhood memory.

Over the past few years, as I would tie on the lobster bib, it would slowly hit me that this, as with all childhood passages, will soon come to an end. And here I am. The camp trunks have dwindled from six to four to two and I am now packing up my youngest child for her senior summer at sleepaway camp. Secretly, I long to be writing just their initials in Sharpie (yes, that's what it has come to) on ONE HUNDRED EIGHTY single peds rather than a mere sixty.

I cannot believe the end is near. I will find my last shady spot in the grass to eat my camp visiting day lunch. For the last time I will be proudly serenaded by an alma mater and cheer and respond with my typical "You were robbed, you should have won sing!" I will sit in the back of a motorboat as my daughter cuts from one side of the wake to another. I will dig through art projects to find the last treasure, a batiked bandana or a jewelry box made of Popsicle sticks. And when it is all over, I will watch a sprinkling of homesick kids cry as their parents pull themselves away. Though this time, I may be the one crying, not, of course, because I am homesick, but because I will remain, forever, campsick.

Another good read by Jane Rosen.

Circle Contributions

We would like to acknowledge the following contributions to Circle during the first few months of 2013. We appreciate all of your support of Circle!

General contributions:

- Lisa Gerton
- Lisa Yarmis

Every effort has been made to ensure the completeness of this list. We apologize if any contributor has been left out – you can be sure that every dollar helps!

Note and Mitzvah Card Sales

The Circle would like to acknowledge the following contributions through the purchase of mitzvah and note cards. Thank you all!

- Mr. and Mrs. Edward and Ruth Legum in honor of Dr. Phillip Band.
- In memory of Lynette Cohen Silverberg's father, Joseph Cohen.
- In memory of Mannie Gross, Karen Gross' grandfather by Lisa Gerton, Rachel Miller, AJ Lynn, Missa Evans, Laurie Miller, Jenny Kay, Dani Berman, Sarina Chernock and Lila Babb.
- Alicia Berlin: purchase of 20 mitzvah cards.

If anyone needs information on how to purchase either note cards or mitzvah cards, please contact Lisa Yarmis at 443-690-4770. Remember, all donations to the Circle are tax-deductible, and help us fund Circle projects around camp!

Songbook

When I think of camp, one of the first things that comes to my mind is a campfire. The smell of the fire, the taste of the s'mores, the sound of the guitars and the singers! Well, now everyone can have a little of that campfire with them with the Camp Louise Circle Campfire Songbook. Lyrics and guitar chords are included in this small, compact songbook that is the perfect size to throw in your guitar case or on your book shelf! If you would like to buy one, please contact Rachel Sanderoff at sanderoff@camplouise.org.

Camp Louise License Plates

We are almost there! We need a minimum of 25 cars to order Camp Louise organizational license plates. License plates are available for almost any Maryland-registered vehicle (sorry, no motorcycles!) These plates are NOT vanity plates and do NOT require additional renewal costs (the fee is the same as you pay for your plates now). The ONLY fee is the one-time donation of $50 to Circle ($25 is tax deductible). More details are available on the Circle Web site – <http://www.camplouise.org/licenseplate.html>.

If you do not have access to the Internet or have any other questions, feel free to call me and I can answer your questions and/or send you the form through the mail. Thanks! Neil Berlin: 410-363-3877.

Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Camp Louise Alumnae Communications

- Henri Goettel maintains the master database of Circle members, former camp staff and former campers. The master database is used to create the directory and the mailing labels for all alumnae mailings, including the reunion packet. Email: hgoettel@publicnetworking.org.
- Robbin Myerberg produces and sends out all printed alumnae mailings except for the reunion packet. Email: robbinm@camplouisecircle.org.
- Karen Levin produces and sends out the reunion packet. Email: karenl@camplouisecircle.org.
- Rachel Sanderoff is the webmaster for the Camp Louise Circle Web site and sends out the emails to those in the database for whom we have e-mail addresses. To register as a member of the Circle forum, contact Rachel at webmaster@camplouisecircle.org.
- Henri, Robbin, Karen and Rachel are in contact with each other throughout the year. They provide each other with all additions and updates to camp alumnae information. Contact any one of the four of them to change any of your information or to add someone new. Your information will get to all four.
